Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-8, drawn to retrospectively analyzing experiences of human user of a general purpose computing device classified in class 707, subclass 104.1.
- II. Claims 9-48; 54-80 and 86-93, drawn to specifying context attributes for logging, classified in class 707, subclass 102.
- III. Claims 49-53 drawn to context attribute log data structure, classified in class 707, subclass 101.
- IV. Claims 81-85; 94-102 are drawn to simulation of selected earlier-occurring conditions, classified in class 703, subclass 13.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons: Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility retrospectively analyzing experiences of human user of a general purpose computing device without requiring the to specifying context attributes for logging of invention II. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as data structure that is not retrospectively analyzing experiences of human user of a general purpose computing device of invention I. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has simulation of selected earlier-occurring conditions that is not retrospectively analyzing experiences of human user of a general purpose computing device of invention I. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has to context attribute log data structure that is not specifying context attributes for logging of invention II. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Examiner contacted Attorney Steven Lawrenz on January 28, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirements, but did not result in an election being.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
